Kaceytron: She Smoked More than She Spoke

“I know a lot of people have been wanting to watch this without necessarily supporting Ethan Klein. So, we’re going to watch it.”

– Kaceytron Prior to Reacting to Content Nuke: Hasan Piker

“What is happening? I’m trying to follow, but I lost the plot.”

– Kaceytron Reacting to Content Nuke: Hasan Piker

INTRODUCTION

1. This lawsuit is about ending the practice of lazy reaction videos that copy entire copyrighted works and purposefully siphon views and revenue away from the original. Over seven years ago, the owners of Plaintiff Ted Entertainment, Inc. (“TEI”) – Ethan and Hila Klein – established the legal standard for fair use reaction videos in Hosseinzadeh v. Klein, 276 F.Supp.3d 34 (S.D.N.Y. 2017). As a genre, reaction videos “vary widely in terms of purpose, structure, and the extent to which they rely on potentially copyrighted material.” Reaction videos, “like the Klein video” that “intersperse short segments of another’s work with criticism and commentary,” constitute fair use.<sup>1</sup> In contrast, reaction videos that are “more akin to a group viewing session” do not. Id., at 40 fn.1, 45-47 (emphasis added).

2. This case concerns a “group viewing session” hosted by Defendant Kacey Caviness p/k/a Kaceytron (“Kaceytron”). Kaceytron specifically intended her “group viewing session” to siphon the maximum number of views and revenue away from TEI’s copyrighted work Content Nuke: Hasan Piker (“The Nuke”) to herself. Kaceytron successfully achieved her objective by releasing her “group viewing session” of The Nuke minutes after its official release and showing it in its entirety. Kaceytron greatly profited from her “group viewing session” of The Nuke through advertising revenue, donations and paid subscriptions.

3. The moderators of the H3Snark subreddit (the “H3Snark Mods”) knew that Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” would serve as an alternative to watching The Nuke on TEI’s YouTube channel. Kaceytron has a long and well-documented history of copyright infringement. The H3Snark Mods were aware of this fact. As such, they successfully promoted

Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” on the H3Snark subreddit (“H3Snark”) as a substitute for The Nuke.

4. Like most lazy reaction videos, Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” of The Nuke is nearly devoid of critical commentary. Instead, Kaceytron uses her “group viewing session” as an opportunity to engage in public degeneracy, such as:

a. Continuously smoking copious quantities of cannabis resulting in Kaceytron becoming so obliterated that – instead of providing any commentary – she stares blankly at her computer;

b. Even more striking, Kaceytron peppers her “group viewing session” with the sounds of loud gastral intestinal emissions.

5. Due to Kaceytron’s highly inebriated state, she watched long, unadulterated portions of The Nuke for minutes on end without interruption. On the rare occasion that Kaceytron was coherent, her remarks were brief, surface-level, repetitive and/or self-admittedly uninformed. Kaceytron’s poverty of commentary fails to provide “new information, new aesthetics, new insights or understandings” on The Nuke. Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts, Inc. v. Goldsmith (“Warhol”), 598 U.S. 508, 541 (2023).

6. Kaceytron’s unauthorized, highly commercial exploitation of The Nuke is a quintessential example of copyright infringement – i.e., using copyrighted content “to get attention [and] avoid the drudgery in working up something fresh.” Campbell v. Acuff-Rose Music, Inc., 510 U.S. 569, 580 (1994). This lawsuit is to hold Kaceytron accountable for her infringement of The Nuke and the H3Snark Mods accountable for their contributory infringement.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. This Court has federal question jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1338(a-b).

9. Venue in this judicial district is proper under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(c) and 1400(a) because a substantial part of the acts and omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in this judicial district.

PARTIES

11. Kaceytron is an online streamer who releases content on social media platforms, namely Twitch, and resides in Blue Springs, Missouri.

12. The H3Snark Mods consist of Does Nos. 1-10. The true names and exact location of Does Nos. 1-10 are presently unknown to TEI, which therefore sues said Doe defendants by such fictitious names, and will seek leave to amend this Complaint to show their true names and exact locations when the same have been ascertained. ### FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

Background of TEI

13. TEI was founded in 2016 by Ethan and Hila Klein. The Kleins rose to prominence on YouTube with two channels, “h3h3Productions” (their primary channel) and “Ethan and Hila”<sup>2</sup> (their secondary channel). The Kleins created highly stylized reaction videos to other YouTube videos. The Kleins’ reaction videos “intersperse[d] relatively short segments” of the original video “with long segments of the Kleins’ commentary.” Hosseinzadeh, 276 F.Supp.3d at 40. After TEI was established, the Kleins assigned both channels to TEI.

14. In 2016, the Kleins were sued for copyright infringement, defamation and misrepresentation under 17 U.S.C. Section 512(f) by Matt Hosseinzadeh p/k/a Matt Hoss/The Bold Guy (“Matt Hoss”). The copyright claim concerned a reaction video uploaded to their “Ethan and Hila” YouTube channel. The video, entitled The Big, The Bold, The Beautiful (the “Klein video”), was a critical and humorous reaction to Matt Hoss’ video, Bold Guy vs. Parkour Girl (the “Hoss video”). As the Court in Hosseinzadeh explained:

The Klein video opens with commentary and discussion between Ethan and Hila Klein, followed by segments of the Hoss video which they play, stop, and continue to comment on and criticize. The Klein video, which is almost fourteen minutes long, intersperses relatively short segments of the Hoss video with long segments of the Kleins’ commentary, ultimately using three minutes and fifteen seconds of the five minute, twenty-four second long Hoss video. The Klein video is harshly critical of the Hoss video, and includes mockery of [Matt Hoss’] performance and what the [Kleins] consider unrealistic dialog and plotlines. In addition, defendants’ commentary refers to the Hoss video as quasi-pornographic and reminiscent of a “Cringetube” genre of YouTube video known for “cringe”-worthy sexual content. As critical as it is, the Klein video is roughly equivalent to the kind of commentary and criticism of a creative work that might occur in a film studies class.

Hosseinzadeh, 276 F.Supp.3d at 40 (footnote and internal citations omitted).

15. On August 23, 2017, the Court granted summary judgment for the Kleins on all of Matt Hoss claims. Hosseinzadeh, 276 F.Supp.3d at 45-48. For the copyright infringement claim, the Court found the Klein video made a fair use of the Hoss video.

16. In 2017, TEI established The H3 Podcast channel on YouTube. On the new channel, TEI produced podcast episodes that were less structured than the reaction videos the Kleins previously made. To ensure any use of unlicensed copyrighted content qualified as fair use, TEI formulated and refined best practices based on the principles from Hosseinzadeh, which included: (1) whenever feasible, prescreening the original work and outlining the criticism and commentary before the broadcast; (2) ensuring the commentary was directly related to the style and/or substance of the original work; (3) only broadcasting the portion of the original work that would be subject to critique; (4) pausing the original work frequently to provide critique; and (5) ensuring that the duration of commentary was substantially longer than the portion of the original work show immediately before the commentary.

Kaceytron: Flamebait Fixture

17. Kaceytron has been streaming for over a decade. She has amassed approximately 540,000 followers on Twitch – her streaming platform of choice.

18. Kaceytron is not known for her intellectual acumen or analytic prowess. Despite desperately wanting to be taken seriously by the alt-left online commentary community, Kaceytron’s claim to fame is her public acts of degeneracy and brazen acts of copyright infringement.<sup>3</sup> Kaceytron’s streams comprise of her watching unlicensed, third-party content while smoking copious quantities of cannabis and impersonating (albeit unintentionally) the cartoon characters Beavis and Butthead.<sup>4</sup>

19. Sometimes, Kaceytron is not even conscious while streaming unlicensed, third-party content. The most infamous example occurred in June 2023 during one of Kaceytron’s subathons (i.e., a streaming marathon to acquire more paying subscribers). During the subathon, Kaceytron streamed entire episodes of the television show Kitchen Nightmares while passed out

20. On June 25, 2023, Kaceytron was temporarily banned by Twitch due to her chronic copyright infringement.<sup>6</sup> When the ban became public, Kaceytron posted the following on X: “and ill do it again” (original spelling).<sup>7</sup>

Background of H3Snark

21. H3Snark is part of a genre of message boards – known as subreddits – on the website, Reddit. Snark subreddits comprise of “fallen fans” of a particular entertainer. Over time, there have been numerous snark subreddits regarding TEI’s podcasts and of the Kleins. Many were banned by Reddit for violating its Content Policy – such as r/Frenemies and r/Frenemies2.

22. H3Snark was created on August 30, 2023 by Doe No. 1 – who was a fanatical Trisha Paytas (“Trisha”) fan. Doe No. 1 became a “fallen fan” when the TEI series, Frenemies (which was co-hosted by Ethan and Trisha), ended abruptly in June 2021.

23. H3Snark became a haven for “fallen fans” of TEI’s podcasts and the Kleins. While the average viewer would move on with their lives after becoming disinterested in a podcast, H3Snark “fallen fans” religiously watch TEI produced content with orgiastic hatred. H3Snark enables these deranged and chronically unemployed fallen fans to share their perverse pleasure of hate-watching TEI content with others by providing infringing clips and links to TEI content.

24. Beginning in the fall of 2023, H3Snark experienced a surge of new users who were “fallen fans” of the TEI series, Leftovers. The show was co-hosted by Ethan and the most prominent alt-left streamer on the website Twitch, Hasan Piker p/k/a HasanAbi (“Hasan”). On September 14, 2023, Ethan and Hasan debated various issues concerning China and Taiwan, such as whether Taiwan should be independent, the propriety of China’s subjugation of Tibet and the genocide of the Uyghurs.<sup>8</sup> Due to Ethan pushing back on Hasan’s pro-China positions, several Leftover fans who had an ecclesiastical parasocial relationship with Hasan flocked to H3Snark because they felt Ethan was critiquing them personally.

25. The surge of new users to H3Snark exploded after October 7, 2023. The Kleins are dual Israeli-American citizens. Hila was born and raised in Israel, where she served as a secretary during her mandatory conscription into the Israeli Defense Forces (“IDF”).<sup>9</sup> While both Ethan and Hila are highly supportive of Palestinian self-determination and extremely critical of Israel and its government, the Kleins support a two-state solution as the best interim solution to the conflict.<sup>10</sup>

26. In the wake of October 7th, Hasan emerged as the modern incarnation of The Grand Mufti Hajj Amin al-Husseini (“Al-Husseini”).<sup>11</sup> Like Al-Husseini, Hasan became a “Arabs, rise as one man and fight for your sacred rights. Kill the Jews wherever you find them.

This pleases God, history and religion. This saves your honor.

God is with you.” – Al Hussein (March 1, 1944 on Nazi radio)

27. On October 12, 2023, the last episode of Leftovers aired. It was comprised of a discussion between Ethan and Hasan regarding the Israel/Palestinian conflict and the events of October 7th.<sup>16</sup> During the discussion, Ethan expressed his support of the Palestinian cause and empathy for their suffering, along with condemning Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. At the same time, Ethan attempted to humanize the victims of October 7th to Hasan in the hope that empathy and mutual understanding could begin to heal the divide. Hasan was unpersuaded and the relationship with Ethan and Hasan began to deteriorate.

28. In the aftermath of the falling out between Ethan and Hasan, H3Snark became a radioactive hub of “fallen fans” of TEI content and the Kleins. It became a focal point for spreading vicious lies, outlandish conspiracy theories and hallucinatory misrepresentations about the Kleins.

The Rampant Copyright Infringement on H3Snark

29. Despite their hatred towards the Kleins, the users of H3Snark had an insatiable appetite for TEI’s content. The H3Snark users, however, did not want TEI to receive any views or advertising revenue from their consumption of TEI’s content. As a result, H3Snark became a locus of copyright infringement of TEI content – as detailed below.

30. One method the H3Snark Mods employed to consume TEI content was to share links of TEI content on YewTube – a website that provides unauthorized access to YouTube videos and publicly performs them, which constitutes copyright infringement. See Hunley v. Instagram, LLC, 73 F.4th 1060, 1073-74 (9th Cir. 2023). YewTube had particular appeal to H3Snark Mods and H3Snark users because a video watched on YewTube does not result in a view or advertising revenue to the original on YouTube.

31. H3Snark Mods conducted live chats when TEI content was broadcast live. During the live chats, the H3Snark Mods would spam the chat with YewTube links of the broadcast. Once the livestream ended, the H3Snark Mods concealed the evidence of their copyright infringement by deleting the live chat logs. Below are true and correct screenshots of the H3Snark mods spamming the live chat with YewTube links to TEI copyrighted content.

32. Through various comments to posts, Doe No. 3 (i.e., u/sarahornejewetts) encouraged H3Snark users to use YewTube as an alternative to watching the TEI's video on its official channel. Doe No. 3's comments were later wiped. Due to Doe No. 3's efforts, the user was annointed as one of the H3Snark Mods. Some examples are contained below.

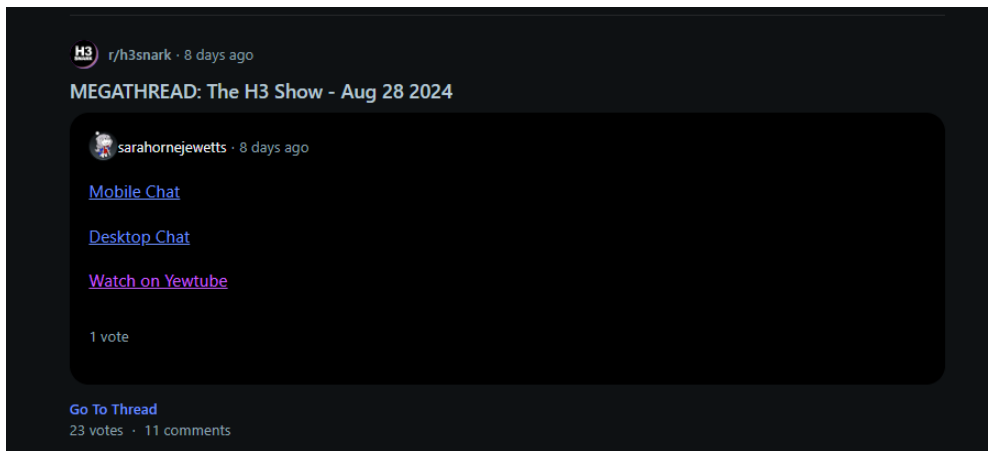

a. In August 2024, the u/PearlUnicorn created the post: “For those who wonder why Snarkers watch, moments like the second button failure.” Below is a true and correct screenshot of Doe No. 3 stating: “We encourage folks to watch on yewtube since it doesn’t play ads or contribute to their view counts.” As can be noted, Doe No. 3’s comment was subsequently wiped from August 2024 post.

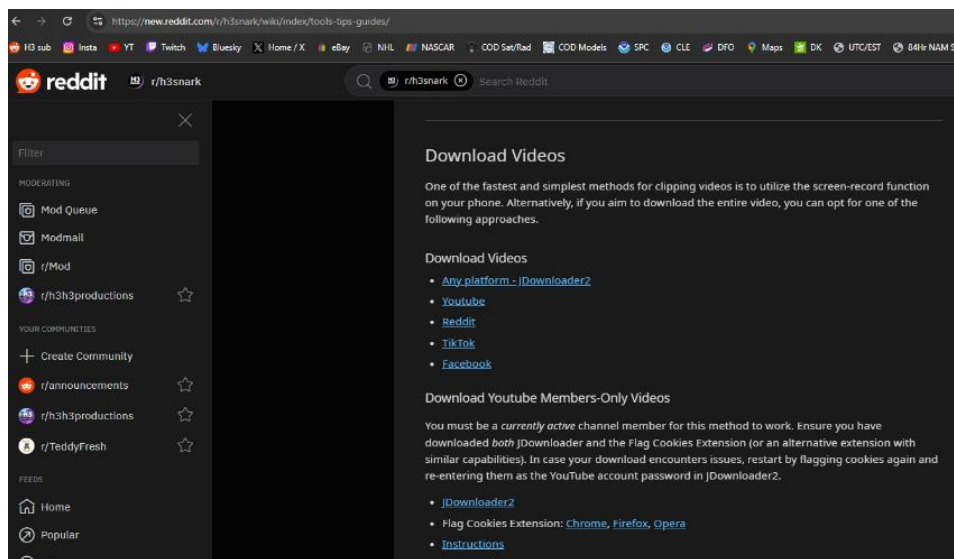

b. On August 28, 2024, the H3Snark Moderators created a post entitled “MEGATHREAD: The H3 Show – Aug 28 2024.” Below is a true and correct screenshot of Doe No. 3 providing a link to the TEI video Content Court: Jack Doherty – H3 Show #48 on YewTube.<sup>17</sup> As can be noted, Doe No. 3’s comment has been wiped from the August 28, 2024 post.

33. Under the H3Snark wiki page for “tools-tips-guides,” H3Snark Mods also instructed H3Snark users on how to create clips of TEI content so these clips could be posted on H3Snark. At one point, the H3Snark Mods even instructed users how to download “Members-Only” content (i.e., TEI content only accessible to paying members) so that they could be posted on H3Snark. To hide their inducement of copyright infringement, the H3Snark Mods deleted the portion on downloading “Members-Only” content from the guide. A true and correct screenshot of the portion regarding “Members-Only” content is provided below.

TEI Issues Takedown Notices for Infringing Posts and Comments on H3Snark

34. TEI began to fight back against the copyright infringement on H3Snark by issuing takedown notices pursuant to 17 U.S.C. Section 512(c)(3) (“DMCA Takedowns”). TEI was extremely surgical about which H3Snark posts would be subject to DMCA Takedowns. Relying on the most pertinent fair use decisions,<sup>18</sup> TEI issued DMCA Takedowns only for: (1) posts/comments that uploaded an entire TEI episode onto Reddit – particularly paywalled TEI content; (2) comments that provided a YewTube link to entire episodes of TEI content; or (3) posts that contained a clip of TEI content with a descriptive, non-critical title and the comments were locked by the H3Snark Mods or there were no comments after several hours.

a. August 1, 2024 DMCA Takedown: On August 1, 2024, TEI issued a DMCA Takedown for the H3Snark post entitled “H3 Live Show Behind the Scenes.” The post contained a complete version of TEI’s video H3 Podcast BTS #53 – which was “Members Only” content (i.e., accessible only to paying members of The H3 Podcast YouTube channel). On August 2, 2024 (i.e. one day later), Reddit honored this DMCA Takedown.

b. August 30, 2024 DMCA Takedown: On August 30, 2024, TEI issued a DMCA Takedown for a comment by Doe No. 3 (i.e., u/sarahornejewetts) on the H3Snark Post entitled “MEGATHREAD: The H3 Show - Aug 28, 2024” (the “8/30/24 Takedown”). The

c. September 18, 2024 DMCA Takedown: On September 18, 2024, TEI issued a DMCA Takedown for the H3Snark post entitled “Ethan and Dan confirm that posting to snark will get you banned” (the “9/18/24 Takedown”). The post solely comprised of a clip from the TEI video Ethan Debates Anti-Semitic Sneako Fan – H3 Show #55. The post contained no comments because the H3 Snark Mods locked the post. Reddit never informed TEI whether the 9/18/24 Takedown was honored.

d. November 22, 2024 DMCA Takedowns: On November 22, 2024, TEI issued two DMCA Takedowns:

i. First Takedown: The first DMCA Takedown was for the H3Snark post “ethan talks positively about celebrity poker tour’s sponsor, a sports gambling app named fliff h3 show #83.” The post contained a clip from the TEI video We Play Poker w/ Ninja, Impractical Jokers, & More! – H3 Show #83. The post contained two comments: (1) “Dude ur flair is actually fucking frying me rn” (original spelling); and (2) “The downfall is real man.” The post contained no further comments because the H3Snark Mods locked the post. On November 29, 2024 (i.e., seven days later), Reddit informed TEI that it honored this DMCA Takedown.

ii. Second Takedown: The second DMCA Takedown was for the H3Snark post entitled “Ethan describes his issues with Hasan as ‘personal beef.’” This post contained a clip from the TEI video entitled *Logan Paul Posted F***KING INSANE Cringe –*

i. First Takedown: The first DMCA Takedown was for the H3Snark post “[LB says ‘\[far leftists\] hate israel because israel is backed by the west’ and this can lead to antisemitism. Ethan agrees, then says freedom of religion, speech, press, and to ‘control what happens in your own work space’ would be under state-control in communism – h3 show #85.](#)” (original spelling and brackets). The post contained a clip from the TEI video entitled I Haven’t Been Well – H3 Show #85. The post contained no comments because the H3Snark Mods locked the post. On December 6, 2024 (i.e., ten days later), Reddit informed TEI that it honored this DMCA Takedown.

ii. Second Takedown: The second DMCA Takedown for the H3Snark post “Lena asks Lonerbox about civilians and doesn’t get a direct answer: ‘It’s always civilians are dying... BUT... and then theres a reason for justifying it.’” (original ellipses and spelling) (the “Second 11/26/24 Takedown”). The post contained a clip from the TEI video entitled I Haven’t Been Well – H3 Show #85. The post contained no comments because the H3Snark Mods locked the post. On December 6, 2024 (i.e., ten days later), Reddit informed TEI that it honored this DMCA Takedown.

35. The H3Snark Mods made a concerted effort to issue fraudulent counternotifications to TEI's DMCA Takedowns, as detailed below:

a. On January 15, 2025, Reddit informed TEI that a so-called counternotification was issued against both the 8/30/24 Takedown the 9/18/24 Takedown (the "First Fraudulent Counternotification").<sup>21</sup> The First Fraudulent Counternotification was issued on October 18, 2024 – i.e., Reddit informed TEI nearly three months later.

i. On its face, the First Fraudulent Counternotification failed to satisfy the requirements of 17 U.S.C. Section 512(g)(3) because it failed to include: (1) the issuer's address and telephone number; (2) consent to jurisdiction and service of process; and (3) a statement made under penalty of perjury.

ii. Further, the First Fraudulent Counternotifications contained numerous indicia of being fraudulent because: (1) it was a single counternotification for posts made by two different users (i.e. u/sarahornejewetts and u/obrienpotatoes); and (2) it misrepresented that the 8/30/24 Takedown was for the post and not the comment with the YewTube link.

iii. It was also evident the First Fraudulent Counternotification was issued by the H3Snark Mods because it stated: (1) "We are writing to contest the removal of two posts from our subreddit under alleged copyright claims" (emphasis added); (2) "We believe these reports may have been filed by fans rather than the legitimate copyright holder"

(emphasis added) – despite the fact that TEI’s counsel’s contact information was provided in both the 8/30/24 Takedown and 9/18/24 Takedown; and (3) the name of the issuer was “Michael Anderson” – a generic name that would make it impossible to identify the issuer of the First Fraudulent Counternotification.

iv. On January 16-17, 2025 (i.e., two days after receiving the First Fraudulent Counternotification), TEI explained in exacting detail the facts and law demonstrating the First Fraudulent Counternotification was invalid. On March 18, 2025 (i.e., over two months later), Reddit responded that it agreed that the First Fraudulent Counternotification was invalid – but claimed that it would refuse to honor the 8/30/24 Takedown because the post only linked to TEI’s video on YouTube. The same day, TEI explained to Reddit that this was false because the 8/30/24 Takedown explicitly stated it was directed at the comment by Doe No. 3 (i.e., u/sarahornejewetts) and contained a YewTube link, including providing a screenshot for the comment. To date, Reddit has not responded.

b. Additionally, on March 18, 2025 (the same day Reddit informed TEI that the First Fraudulent Counternotification was invalid), Reddit notified TEI that another counternotification was issued regarding the 9/18/24 Takedown (the “Second Fraudulent Counternotification”).<sup>22</sup> The Second Fraudulent Counternotification was issued on December 5, 2024 (i.e., Reddit notified TEI three and a half months later).

i. The Second Fraudulent Counternotification contained no indicia that the issuer considered the four fair use factors prior to issuing the Second Fraudulent Counternotification – which is unlawful. See Hosseinzadeh, 276 F.Supp.3d at 36; Hughes, 437

F.Supp.3d at 394-395; cf Lenz v. Universal Music Group, 815 F.2d 1145, 1149, 1154-55 (9th Cir. 2016). Further, the language of the Second Fraudulent Counternotification demonstrated the issuer – u/obrienpotatoes – did not understand fair use in general, by stating: (1) “This was an abuse of the fair use system” (which is bizarre because the u/obrienpotatoes was claiming fair use, not TEI); and (2) the conclusory assertion “Even so, it would still be allowed under fair use” without any analysis. This is further emphasized by an April 11, 2025 post on X by @obrienpotatoes1. In the post, @obrienpotatoes posted the cease and desist letter sent by TEI’s counsel and defended the Reddit post by claiming it was only “A MINUTE AND A HALF LONG CLIP” – i.e., only focusing on the amount used and not the other fair use factors.<sup>23</sup>

ii. The Second Fraudulent Counternotification also echoed language similar to the First Fraudulent Counternotification – indicating the H3Snark Mods worked with u/obrienpotatoes to issue the Second Fraudulent Counternotification, namely: “This subreddit has also been mercy to many bad faith brigades recently, so I do not believe this appeal was filed by the actual copyright owner” (emphasis added) – despite the 9/18/24 Takedown containing TEI’s counsel’s contact information.

iii. Additionally, after the Second 11/26/24 Takedown was issued, one of the H3Snark Mods (who later deleted their account) left a comment on the post stating: “I reached out via DM to discuss how to appeal these, if you’re willing to fill out the form.” This further emphasizes the H3Snark Mods coordinated a campaign of issuing fraudulent counternotifications to enable H3Snark’s copyright infringement of TEI’s works.

c. The H3Snark Mods went on a public relations campaign to paint TEI’s DMCA Takedowns as fraudulent to cover up their copyright infringement. To achieve this objective, the H3Snark Mods authored several posts misrepresenting the facts.<sup>24</sup>

d. After Ethan became vocal about pursuing claims against H3Snark, the H3Snark Mods began deleting their posts, comments and accounts en masse to perpetuate their false narrative and conceal their copyright infringement (along with other illegal activity, such as organized harassment and defamation).

e. On March 5, 2025, a YouTuber by the name of “The Law” posted a video on YouTube entitled Dear H3Snark, I see you.<sup>25</sup> In the video, The Law admits he was a former H3Snark user who came to reject the obsessive and destructive behavior he saw taking over the subreddit. He documented the acts of copyright infringement by H3Snark users and H3Snark Mods (and other unlawful conduct), including their attempts to conceal their unlawful conduct. The video documents:

i. The H3Snark Mods deleted posts after Ethan announced plans to pursue legal action against H3Snark for harassment (1:18-1:41);

ii. How the H3Snark Mods abused the live chat feature on Reddit to promote harassment and defamatory statements, including promoting some of the egregious offenders into H3Snark Mods (2:02-4:54);

iii. How the H3Snark Mods use “sock puppet accounts” (i.e., using a

iv. How the H3Snark Mods purposefully lied about TEI’s DMCA Takedowns to conceal their copyright infringement and obfuscate their intent to siphon views and ad revenue away from TEI (6:52-9:11).

TEI Creates and Registers *The Nuke

36. By the fall of 2024, Ethan and Hila Klein’s concern reached a fever pitch over Hasan radicalizing his audience with propaganda from Ansar Allah a/k/a The Houthis, Hezbollah and Hamas. The Kleins were equally concerned with Twitch’s refusal to enforce its Community Guidelines against Hasan and his so-called “Waiting Room” – i.e., other Twitch streamers, like Kaceytron, who parrot Hasan and parasitically leach off his audience by broadcasting immediately before or after his streams.

37. Hasan and his Waiting Room hijacked the necessary and important discussion of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and the Gaza War. They employed genocidal rhetoric that painted all Israelis as subhuman warranting annihilation. The term “Zionist” lost all meaning and quickly mutated into a thinly-veiled dog whistle for Jews.<sup>26</sup> To combat the tsunami of hateful rhetoric,

<sup>26</sup> The term “Zionist” was used as a slur to paint anyone who supported the existence of Israel or a two-state solution as a Kahanist (Jewish Supremacist) or Israeli Religious Nationalist. In the most recent Israeli Legislative Election in 2022, the coalition of these parties only received 10.84% of the vote. Ethan and Hila Klein – through TEI – created Content Nuke: Hasan Piker.

38. The Nuke was written, shot and edited from December 2024 through January 2025. On January 27, 2025 (i.e., four days before the Nuke was publicly released on TEI’s h3h3Productions YouTube channel), TEI submitted its application to register The Nuke with the United States Copyright Office (the “USCO”). On January 28, 2025, the USCO received the deposit copy of the Nuke (the “Deposit Copy”). The registration number for The Nuke is PAu 4-256-429.

39. The Deposit Copy varied slightly from the broadcast version of The Nuke (the “Broadcast Version”). First, the Deposit Copy did not contain the conclusion and sponsor segment that was contained in the Broadcast Version. Second, to prevent The Nuke from being age-restricted by YouTube (which would limit its reach), TEI was required to fully blur out the footage of the Houthis entering the bridge of the Galaxy Leader and black out the footage of Hamas releasing hostages from November 2023. Third, minor visual edits were made. Ultimately, all of the Deposit Copy was incorporated into the Broadcast Version.<sup>27</sup>

The Nuke

40. The Nuke is a tragi-comic documentary critiquing Hasan and Twitch. It consists of original footage, highly edited montages, parodic skits and archival materials (a great deal of which are owned by TEI). The Nuke can be divided into seven sections: (1) The Prologue; (2) The Twitch Parody Sketch; (3) The Houthi Section; (4) The Hezbollah Section; (5) The Hamas Section; (6) The Twitch Section; and (7) The Conclusion.

<sup>27</sup> TEI is concurrently-filing with this Complaint a Notice of Lodging accompanied by a flash drive containing various video exhibits referenced in the Complaint (the “Flash Drive”). A true and correct copy of the Deposit Copy is located on the Flash Drive as Exhibit D. A true and correct copy of the Broadcast Version is located on the Flash Drive as Exhibit E.

a. The Prologue (Ex. E at 0:00:00-0:25:40): The prologue walks the audience through Ethan's thesis of The Nuke: that Hasan radicalizes his audience with genocidal and antisemitic terrorist propaganda.

i. While admitting both himself and Hasan are polarizing figures with controversial takes, Ethan explains he grew concerned with Hasan's rhetoric after hearing him excuse Russian and Chinese genocide and imperialism, namely Hasan's positions on Crimea, Tibet, Taiwan and the Uyghurs.

ii. Once October 7th occurred, Ethan's concerns were exacerbated. He received a torrent of antisemitic comments from Hasan's audience and saw Hasan downplay the sexual violence perpetrated by Hamas on October 7th.

iii. Ethan explains that the primary difference of opinion between him and Hasan (and his audience). While both are aligned on supporting the Palestinian cause – including condemning Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, Israeli settlements and Israeli settlers, they differ in one key aspect regarding how to solve the conflict: Ethan believes in a two-state solution, while Hasan (and his audience) believe in a one-state solution.

iv. Ethan articulates the concerns Israelis have with a one-state solution: Israel has been at war with its Arab neighbors since the country's inception. As a nation of refugees, the idea of suddenly becoming a minority raises legitimate concerns – particularly for the Mizrahi Jews (i.e., Jews from Arab countries) who were expelled from Arab countries.

v. Ethan then shows archival footage of Hasan: (1) supporting terrorism and glorifying terrorists; (2) admitting to hiding his “power level” (i.e., extremism) because it is a more palatable way to introduce young people into the “radicalization funnel”; (3) conceding to being a propagandist; and (4) expressing vitriolic hatred of liberals. Ethan further points out that Twitch takes no action to moderate Hasan.

vi. Ethan ends The Prologue by expressing his underlying fear that he played a role in mainstreaming Hasan and that he radicalized Ethan's audience.

b. The Twitch Parody Sketch (Ex. E at 0:25:41-0:30:39): The next section involves Ethan parodying a Twitch advertising executive. In the scene, Ethan mocks how Twitch has embraced Hasan's extremist rhetoric and rebrands terrorism as socially acceptable. After the sketch ends, Ethan shows a media bias report that ranked Hasan as one of the most extreme and unreliable news sources.

c. The Houthi Section (Ex. E at 0:30:40-0:55:33): The Houthi Section focuses on Hasan radicalizing his audience by glorifying and disseminating Houthi propaganda.

i. Ethan begins with an overview of various Houthi atrocities and how they contradict leftist values. Examples include recruiting child soldiers, shelling and blocking aid to civilians, ruining agricultural land with mines, oppressing women and members of the LGBTQ community, torturing and killing women and slavery. Ethan also highlights the Houthi's antisemitism – such as performing Nazi salutes and the slogan on their flag calling for “Death to Israel” and “Curse Upon the Jews.”

ii. Ethan critiques Hasan's coverage of the Houthis by using his stream with Nick Polom p/k/a Nmplol (“Nick”) as a case study. Hasan exploits Nick's political naiveté by putting on a Houthi propaganda music video and leaving Nick alone who watches in abject horror. Ethan cites Twitch's Community Guidelines – which explicitly prohibit showing terrorist propaganda for any purpose. Despite this, Twitch refuses to enforce its Community Guidelines against Hasan. Hasan downplays the fact that the Houthi propaganda video is terrorist propaganda to Nick by describing the video as merely a “musical” and the Houthis as “musical people.” When Hasan mischaracterizes the hijacking of the ship the Galaxy Leader as an effective deterrent against Israel, Ethan debunks Hasan’s assertions that the ship was in Houthi waters, destined to Israel or an Israeli ship. Ethan also excoriates Hasan for minimizing the Houthis taking the crew of the Galaxy Leader hostage.

iii. Ethan also critiques Hasan’s misguided belief that, if Israeli commerce is disrupted, Israelis will leave Israel. Ethan demonstrates 80% of Israelis were born in the country and have nowhere else to go. This is exacerbated by the fact that the majority of Jewish Israelis fled (or are descendants from those who fled) Arab countries. The argument that Jews will “return where they came from” is ahistorical and denies their connection of Jews to the Middle East. Rather, it furthers an antisemitic conspiracy theory that questions the origins of the Jews in an attempt to brand Jewish Israelis as outsiders and colonizers.

iv. Ethan shows another example of Hasan watching and praising a different Houthi propaganda music video. To mock Hasan’s laudatory coverage of this video, Ethan juxtaposes the Houthi music video with a highly edited version of the Miami Boys Jewish Choir singing “Yerushalim.”

v. Ethan lambasts Hasan’s interview of the Houthi terrorist Rashid Al-Haddad a/k/a Tim “Houthi” Chalamet (“Al-Haddad”). Al-Haddad became a viral sensation on TikTok when he shot footage of himself boarding the Galaxy Leader. Ethan mocks Hasan’s self-described “journalism” through a montage of Hasan acting like a fan girl, asking frivolous questions and blindly accepting Al-Haddad’s answers – particularly his absurd claim that he danced with the crew taken hostage and that he successfully convinced the crew to hate Israel.

vi. Ethan exposes Hasan’s subsequent attempts to downplay Al-Haddad’s Houthi connections as disingenuous and a form of bigotry. Not only did Hasan believe he was speaking with a Houthi and promoted the interview as being with a Houthi, Al-Haddad's social media posts admitted and reinforced this fact. When confronted with Al-Haddad's social media posts that fail to distinguish between Jews and Zionists, Hasan engages in all forms of apologia to excuse Al-Haddad's genocidal and antisemitic rhetoric. Hasan even grotesquely compares Al-Haddad to Anne Frank – which Ethan mocks as the Twitch advertising executive.

vii. The Houthi section ends with Ethan excoriating Hasan with a montage of him cynically deflecting and evading criticism by exploiting the term “genocide.” This hypocrisy is highlighted by footage of Hasan from a few years ago where he was unable to locate Yemen on a map (and even confusing it with Israel).

d. The Hezbollah Section (Ex. E at 0:55:44-1:01:43): The Hezbollah Section focuses on Hasan radicalizing his audience by disseminating and glorifying Hezbollah propaganda.

i. Ethan begins by highlighting some of Hezbollah's atrocities and how they contradict leftist values. Examples include engaging in terrorism resulting in the deaths of thousands of civilians, the assassination of Lebanese Prime Minister Rafik Al-Hariri, hijacking airplanes, firing 15,000 rockets in civilian areas, being a designated terrorist group and its participation in the Syrian genocide to prop up the dictator Bashar Al-Assad.

ii. Next, Ethan critiques Hasan by juxtaposing scenes of him downplaying and excusing Hezbollah's genocidal terrorism and praising Hassan Nasrallah (Hezbollah's former leader) with Nasrallah's numerous antisemitic and genocidal statements against Jews.

iii. Ethan goes on to critique Hasan's lazy and ignorant apologia for Hezbollah and analysis of the conflict, such as branding any criticism of Hezbollah as Islamophobic and Hasan telling Nick that Israel attacked Lebanon because “they were just there.” Ethan refutes these assertions by demonstrating Hezbollah began firing rockets at Israel the day after October 7th, killed over 100 Israelis and displaced over 200,000. Ethan questions how Hasan’s falsehoods help his position when, in reality, Hasan’s misrepresentations only exacerbate the conflict.

e. The Hamas Section (Ex. E at 1:01:44-1:11:50): The Hamas Section focuses on Hasan radicalizing his audience by disseminating and glorifying Hamas propaganda, coupled with denying the atrocities of October 7th.

i. Ethan begins by highlighting some of Hamas’ atrocities and how they contradict leftist values. Examples include recruiting children, committing hundreds of suicide bombings that target civilians, firing 50,000 rockets into civilian areas, oppression of women, punishing homosexuality by death, stealing aid intended for Gazans for its own military use or exploiting Gazans by selling the aid back to them.

ii. Next, Ethan critiques Hasan’s reaction to a Hamas propaganda video from November 2023 involving the release of hostages. Hasan gushes effusively over Hamas’ treatment of the hostages. He even makes the absurd claim that hostages released in the future will chose to stay in Gaza rather than return to Israel. When a member of Hasan’s audience points out the hostages are traumatized, Hasan claims the hostages are “just chillin.” Ethan correctly points out that these scenes are staged by Hamas, that the hostages are still being held at gunpoint and provided instructions on how to behave, such as “keep waving.”

iii. Ethan goes on to lambast Hasan’s reaction to a Hamas propaganda video depicting Hamas creating homemade sniper rifles. Hasan plays the entire clip without any commentary or criticism. Once complete, Hasan’s explanation for showing the video is a nonsensical word salad of buzzwords that have nothing to do with the contents of the video.

iv. Ethan goes on to address Hasan's grotesque denial of sexual violence perpetrated by Hamas on October 7th. He shows a montage of numerous clips of Hasan explicitly denying the sexual violence of October 7th and scoffing at President Biden and Vice-President Harris discussing said violence. Ethan refutes Hasan's denials by showing clips of victim testimony from Sheryl Sandberg's documentary Screams Before Silence and displayed the conclusion of a United Nations report that stated:

Overall, based on the totality of information gathered from multiple and independent sources at the different locations, there are reasonable grounds to believe that conflict-related sexual violence occurred at several locations across the Gaza periphery, including in the form of rape and gang rape, during the 7 October 2023 attacks. Credible circumstantial information which may be indicative of some forms of sexual violence, including genital mutilation, sexualized torture, or cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment, was also gathered.

v. Ethan concludes the section by addressing the heart of the matter. Hasan exacerbates the Israeli-Palestinian conflict by denying the suffering of Israeli victims to hold up Hamas as unimpeachable. As Ethan poignantly states:

This conflict will never end until people realize that Palestinian liberation and Israeli security are not mutually exclusive. You need both. And it can be done, but not while people like Hasan lie, propagandize and incite hate. It's people like him, ironically, that prolong the conflict indefinitely. There's no space for conversation. There is no space for rational thought. There is no space for nuance. My position on Palestine is like five degrees off from where Hasan is. And to him and his community, I'm the devil. I'm a Nazi. It's delusional thinking. And it's destructive to their own cause.

f. The Twitch Section (Ex. E at 1:11:51-1:40:29): The Twitch Section explores the role Twitch plays in enabling Hasan and his Waiting Room to violate Twitch's Community Guidelines.

i. Ethan begins by critiquing Twitch's Chief Executive Officer, Dan

Clancy (“Clancy”). He points to Clancy’s ineffectiveness as a CEO, namely rolling back his initiative to change revenue splits and the size of sponsor logos on stream – along with laying off significant portions of Twitch staff. Clancy explicitly states he is a fan of Hasan and is aware of his rhetoric. Clancy even sang Hasan “Happy Birthday” and forced Twitch employees to sing along while being filmed. Ethan also discusses the creepiness of Clancy’s penchant for e-girls (i.e., young, female Twitch streamers whose streams are about highlighting their physical assets) by pointing to two examples of Clancy’s stories feature on the Twitch app being completely populated by e-girls.

ii. Next, Ethan discusses another Twitch streamer who is a member of Hasan’s Waiting Room, Morgan Kamal Majed p/k/a Frogan, by showcasing numerous instances of her moral bankruptcy. Despite Frogan claiming to support the Palestinian cause, she condemned the large streamer, Ludwig Ahgren (“Ludwig”), by telling him to keep his $10,000 donation to Palestine because Ludwig decided not to organize a charity drive for Palestinians (even though he encouraged his viewers to donate).

iii. Ethan also highlights numerous instances of Frogan’s cruelty. In one clip, Frogan wishes soldiers to get PTSD. A few days later – after the clip caused tremendous controversy – Frogan watched the clip while giggling and justifying her take. Despite veterans receiving protected status under Twitch’s Community Guidelines, Twitch did nothing to sanction Frogan for these statements. In another clip, Frogan conducts a subathon where she promises to make a cake recreating September 11th if she reaches a certain goal. Once again, Twitch did nothing. Ethan highlights a tweet that Frogan made on the morning of October 7th, while the massacre was still ongoing. Frogan’s tweet stated: “leftists preach and foam at the mouth at the thought of a revolution happening in america, but as soon as it happens in the middle east what they're doing is wrong" (original spelling). Ethan juxtaposes this tweet with audio of cell phone conversations of victims of October 7th speaking their parents during their final moments.

iv. Ethan critiques how Twitch props up Frogan, by refusing to sanction her, giving her awards and featuring her on Twitch's home page. He also mocks Frogan being nominated for a rising star award by her friends twice.

v. Most notably, Ethan lambasts Twitch for allowing Frogan to host a panel at Twitchcon 2024. The panel involved a racial tier list with "Arab" at the top and "Loves Sabra" at the bottom. While the premise of the tier list is who can say the word "Habibi" (an Arabic term of affection), the term "Loves Sabra" was a dog whistle for Jews and Israelis for several reasons. First, Sabra is a well-known Israeli commercial hummus brand that is on the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions list. Second, the term "Sabra" means a Jew born in Israel. Third, it falsely asserts Israelis misappropriated Arab culture and identity. As evidenced by a clip from Frogan's podcast, the purpose of disseminating this disinformation is to deny the long historical ties of Jews to the Middle East and the Levant. Ethan further highlights the hypocrisy and bigotry of these false claims by noting Arab culture and cuisine is Israeli culture and cuisine because the majority of Israeli Jews are from Arab countries or direct descendants of Jews from Arab countries. Fourth, Ethan was put in the "Loves Sabra" category with Denims (another member of Hasan's Waiting Room) "joking" that there should be a lower category for Zionist. Fifth, Ethan notes that Ben Shapiro ("Shapiro") is put in the thumbnail for the video with Ethan – despite Shapiro not being put on the list whatsoever. Rather, the only explanation is that both Ethan and Shapiro are Jewish and married to women born in Israel. Sixth, Ethan notes that the title of the video is How Arab Are These Twitch Streamers?! – which belies the assertion that the ranking was merely about hummus. Ethan concludes this segment to point out the hypocrisy of the panel claiming to be concerned with minorities, while refusing to acknowledge why their tier list makes a Jewish man uncomfortable. Finally, Ethan marvels that Twitch approved the panel in the first place.

vi. Ethan critiques a Q&A session Clancy conducted on Twitch shortly after the controversy over the racial tier list erupted. Several chatters for the Q&A session asked Clancy to address the antisemitism on Twitch – all of whom were banned from the chat.

vii. Ethan addresses the yearlong ban Twitch imposed to prevent Israeli users from creating new Twitch accounts. The ban was enacted on October 13, 2023 (i.e., six days after October 7th) – which is also the Global Day of Jihad (a day of mass rage, called for by Hamas leader, Khaled Mashal).<sup>28</sup> Despite numerous instances of Israeli Twitch streamers communicating directly with Twitch about the issue and trying to raise awareness online, Twitch either ignored or obfuscated the issue until there was a massive public outcry.

viii. Ethan goes on to excoriate Twitch for reinstating three well-known antisemites shortly after the ban was discovered: (1) Al-Haddad; (2) Nicolas ‘Nico’ Kenn De Balinthy p/k/a Sneako; and (3) Amrou Fudl p/k/a Mryon Gaines from Fresh and Fit. Once again, Twitch reversed course after a public outcry.

ix. Ethan points out how antisemitism and anti-Israel animus appears institutionalized at Twitch. Ethan cites two Twitch employees in leadership positions who made antisemitic and anti-Israel posts online. First is Fadza Madzingira (“Madzingira”) – who was investigated and suspended from her role in the British media regulatory agency, Ofcom. Madzingira was called out in the middle of the United Kingdom’s Parliament for her anti-Israel and antisemitic posts shortly after October 7th. After she resigned, Madzingira was hired by Twitch as a Senior Manager in Twitch’s Trust & Safety Policy department (i.e., the department responsible for the Community Guidelines). Another example is Bridget Kyeremateng – who is Twitch’s Senior Manager for Inclusive Marketing – and has a history of making antisemitic and anti-Israel posts, including shortly after October 7th.

x. Ethan concludes the section by critiquing Twitch’s biased and inconsistent enforcement of its Community Guidelines. He uses the ban of Steven Bonnell II p/k/a Destiny (“Destiny”) as a case study. Destiny was permanently banned from Twitch for calling the streamer and transactivist Clara Sorrenti p/k/a Keffals “inbred.” A montage is shown of Hasan repeatedly referring to Jews and Israelis as “inbred” or laughing at Jews being called “inbred.” Hasan received no punishment from Twitch because he is Clancy’s favorite streamer. Ethan recaps other examples of Hasan’s flagrant violations of Twitch’s Community Guidelines that resulted in no consequences. Not only did Hasan call Jews and Israelis “inbred” and platformed terrorists and terrorist propaganda, Hasan threatened Senator Tom Cotton by replying to Senator Cotton’s tweet with a schematic of the weapon used to assassinate Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe. This is followed by a montage of numerous instances of alt-left streamers on Twitch making death threats without any (or minimal) consequences from Twitch.

g. Conclusion (Ex. E at 1:40:30-1:42:05: Ethan ends The Nuke by summarizing the two reasons why he made the video. First, to stop Hasan’s infiltration of mainstream media. Second, to hold Twitch accountable for enabling antisemitic and anti-Israel animus on its platform.

H3Snark Promotes Kaceytron as a Substitute to Watching *The Nuke

41. Throughout January 2025, Ethan built up public interest in The Nuke by frequently discussing it on The H3 Show. The audience of Hasan and his Waiting Room – who comprised a large portion of the users on H3Snark – anticipated The Nuke with religious fervor to defend their proverbial Grand Mufti from criticism. These fanatics, however, did not want to watch the authorized version The Nuke because TEI would reap the benefits from the views and resulting advertising revenue.

42. The H3Snark Mods knew that there was a huge demand to watch The Nuke through unauthorized channels and promoted “group viewing sessions” of The Nuke as follows:

a. On January 30, 2025 (i.e., the day before The Nuke was released), Doe No. 3 (i.e., u/Jewettornesarah) – as an H3 Snark Mod and on behalf of the H3Snark Mods – created a pinned post entitled “MEGATHREAD | Content Nuke – Where to Watch & Discussion” (“First Inducement Post”). As a pinned community post, the First Inducement Post was featured at the very top of the H3Snark page in the “Community highlights” section before any other posts were visible. The H3Snark Mods did this to maximize the visibility of the First Inducement Post. The First Inducement Post featured Kaceytron as a place “to watch the nuke without showing support for H3” (i.e., TEI) and a link was provided to her stream on Twitch. The First Inducement Post also stated that Kaceytron “supported” H3Snark “by engaging directly with [the H3Snark Mods] directly.” A true and correct PDF printout of the First Inducement Post is attached hereto as

b. On January 31, 2025 (i.e., the day The Nuke was released), the H3Snark Mods created and updated a pinned community post entitled “Ethan Klein’s Content Nuke on Hasan Piker | H3 Snark Megathread” (the “Second Inducement Post”). The Second Inducement Post was also a pinned community post that was featured at the very top of the H3Snark page to maximize visibility. The Second Inducement Post featured Kaceytron as a place “to watch reactions to this video” (i.e., The Nuke) and a link was provided to her stream on Twitch. A true and correct PDF printout of the Second Inducement Post is attached hereto as Exhibit G.

c. At some point after January 31, 2025, the H3Snark Mods deleted the First Inducement Post and Second Inducement Post to conceal their contributory infringement of The Nuke.

43. The H3Snark Mods were well aware of Kaceytron’s reputation for copyright infringement and lazy reaction videos. As such, the H3Snark Mods knew that it was highly likely Kaceytron’s reaction to The Nuke would be an infringing “group viewing session” of The Nuke and not a fair use. The H3Snark Mods coordinated with Kaceytron to direct H3Snark users to Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” of The Nuke noting she was “Live but not reacting yet” to the Nuke. Ex G (original emphasis).

The Law of Fair Use and Reaction Videos

44. Fair use is codified in Section 107 of the Copyright Act. The statute sets forth four non-exclusive factors courts consider to evaluate fair use:

1. [T]he purpose and character of the use, including whether such use is of a commercial nature or is for nonprofit educational purposes;
2. [T]he nature of the copyrighted work;
3. [T]he amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole; and
4. [T]he effect of the use upon the potential market for or value of the copyrighted

45. The first fair use factor “relates to the problem of substitution” – i.e., whether the new work “supersedes” or “supplant[s]” the original. Warhol, 598 U.S. at 527. The “central question” is whether the secondary work “adds something new, with a further purpose or different character.” Id. at 528. The mere fact that a secondary use has “some further purpose” or “add[s] something new ... does not render such uses fair.” Id. at 528-529 (emphasis added). Rather, “whether an allegedly infringing use has a further purpose or different character” is “a matter of degree, and the degree of difference must be weighed against other considerations, like commercialism.” Id. at 532 (emphasis added).

46. While a “use that has a further purpose or different character is said to be ‘transformative[,]’ ... ‘transformativeness’ is a matter of degree.” Warhol, 598 U.S. at 529. Indeed, “an overbroad concept of transformative use, one that includes any further purpose, or any different character, would narrow the copyright owner’s exclusive right to create derivative works.” Id. “To preserve that right, the degree of transformation required to make ‘transformative’ use of an original must go beyond that required to qualify as a derivative.” Id.

47. The “first factor also relates to the justification for the use” both in the “broad sense” and the “narrower sense.” Warhol, 598 U.S. at 531-532. A use is justified in the “broad sense” if it has a “distinct purpose” that “furthers the goal of copyright, namely, to promote the progress of science and the arts, without diminishing the incentive to create.” Id. at 531. A use is justified in the “narrower sense” when it “is reasonably necessary to achieve the user’s new purpose.” Id. Such justification is “particularly relevant to assessing fair use” where “wide dissemination of a secondary work would otherwise run the risk of substitution for the original or licensed derivatives.” Id. Again, “the question of justification is one of degree.” Id.

48. A “critical book review” illustrates how a secondary use must be justified both in the broad and narrow sense. Warhol, 598 U.S. at 528 fn. 4. In the broad sense, the use of the original serves “a different purpose than the book” (i.e., criticism and commentary). Id. In the narrow sense, “each quoted passage within the review likely serves a different purpose (an object of criticism) than it does in the book.” Id. Critically, this “may not always be so” and “a court must consider each use within the whole to determine whether the copying is fair.” Id. Consequently, “[e]ven book reviews are not entitled to a presumption of fairness.” Id., 598 U.S. at 532 fn. 7.

49. There are several indicia of when a use for criticism or commentary is not sufficiently transformative to justify a secondary use.

a. When the “commentary has no critical bearing on the substance or style of the original composition, the claim to fairness in borrowing from another’s work diminishes accordingly (if it does not vanish), and other factors, like the extent of its commerciality, loom larger.” Warhol, 598 U.S. at 530-531. Indeed, “a loose topical connection” with the original work is equally problematic. McGucken, 42 F.4th at 1159.

b. When “a defendant copies more than is necessary to facilitate ‘comment or criticism.’” Penguin Random House LLC v. Colting, 270 F.Supp.3d 736, 751 (S.D.N.Y. 2017). “The law is clear that, to be considered transformative criticism, the aspects of a work that reproduce another’s protected expression must be in service of commentary on that work. It is not enough for part of a work to have a transformative purpose.” Id.

c. When the “use” of the copyrighted work “is not consistently transformative.” Elvis Presley, 349 F.3d at 628. For example when “clips are played without much interruption, if any” or “used in excess of [the] benign purpose.” Id. at 629.

d. The use of “voice overs,” “headlines or captions” or “wholesale copying sprinkled with written commentary,” fails to sufficiently transform a copyrighted work under the first fair use factor. Monge, 88 F.3d at 1174, 1176; Elvis Presley, 349 F.3d at 628-629.

Additionally, “[w]hen a copyrighted work is used simply to illustrate what that work already depicts, the infringer adds no further purpose or different character” and “copyright law treats the infringer as freeriding on the inherent value of the original work.” McGucken, 42 F.4th at 1158.

e. The first fair use factor “does not” favor “any user who wants to reach different buyers, in different markets, communing different products.” Warhol, 598 U.S. at 548 fn. 22.

50. As mentioned, the degree to which a secondary use has a different purpose or character, “must be weighed against other considerations, like commercialism.” Warhol, 598 U.S. at 525. “The undisputed commercial character of [the defendant’s] use, though not dispositive, tends to weigh against a finding of fair use.” Id. at 537.

51. Commercialism examines “the degree to which the new user exploits the copyright for commercial gain—as opposed to incidental use as part of a commercial enterprise.” Elvis Presley, 349 F.3d at 627. Courts consider whether the defendant was “motivated by profits” and “profited from the publication.” Monge, 688 F.3d at 1176. Further, if the defendant “is not advertising a scholarly critique or historical analysis, but instead seeks to profit at least in part from the inherent entertainment value” of the original, the use is commercial. Elvis Presley, 349 F.3d at 628. Finally, commercialism exists “when a secondary user makes unauthorized use of copyrighted material to capture significant revenues as a direct consequence of copying the original work.” Blanch v. Koons, 467 F.3d 244, 253 (2d Cir. 2006).

52. In Hosseinzadeh, the Court found the first fair use factor favored fair use because the Klein video was “quintessential criticism and comment ... on the Hoss video” – namely consistent “mockery” of Matt Hoss’ “performance ... dialog and plotlines.” 276 F.Supp.3d at 40, 45-46. The Klein video was consistently transformative by “intersperse[ing] relatively short segments of the Hoss video with long segments of the Kleins’ commentary.” Id. at 40.

53. The second fair use factor (i.e., “the nature of the copyrighted work”) “typically has not been terribly significant in the overall fair use balancing.” McGucken, 42 F.4th at 1161. This factor examines “the extent to which [the original work] is creative and whether it is unpublished.” Id. Even when a work “document[s] a real event,” the work can still be “creative because [it is] the product of many technical and artistic decisions.” Id. Whether a work is published is defined by whether the author exhausted the “right to control the first public appearance” of the work. Monge, 688 F.3d at 1178. The mere fact a work is published “does not weigh in favor of fair use.” McGucken, 42 F.4th at 1162.

54. In Hosseinzadeh, the Court found the second fair use factor “weigh[ed] against a finding of fair use” because the Hoss video was “a creative work” – despite the work being published. 276 F.Supp.3d at 46.

55. The third fair use factor examines “the quantitative amount and qualitative value of the original work used in relation to the justification for that use.” McGucken, 42 F.4th at 1162. Consequently, the third fair use “factor circles back to the first factor because the extent of permissible copying varies with the purpose and character of the use.” Id.

56. When “the amount used is substantial with respect to the infringing work, it is evidence of the value of the copyrighted work.” Elvis Presley, 349 F.3d at 630. Indeed, “[c]opying an entire work militates against a finding of fair use.” VHT, Inc. v. Zillow Group, Inc., 918 F.3d 723, 744 (9th Cir. 2019). If, however, “the new user only copies as much as necessary for his or her intended use, this factor will not weigh against the new user.” Elvis

Presley, 349 F.3d at 630.

57. In Hosseinzadeh, the Court found that the third fair use factor was “neutral” because, while the Klein video copied “a great deal” of the Hoss video, “the ‘extent’ and ‘quality and importance’ of the video clips used by [the Kleins] were ... plainly necessary to the commentary and critique.” 276 F.Supp.3d at 46.

58. The fourth fair use factor is the “undoubtedly the single most important element of fair use.” Harper & Row Publishers, Inc. v. Nation Enterprises, 471 U.S. 536, 566 (1985). “While the first fair use factor considers whether and to what extent an original work and secondary use have substitutable purposes, the fourth factor focuses on actual or potential market substitution.” Warhol, 598 U.S. at 536 fn. 12.

59. The fourth fair use factor “encompasses both (1) the extent of market harm caused by the particular actions of the alleged infringer, and (2) whether unrestricted and widespread conduct of the sort engaged in by the defendant would result in a substantially adverse impact on the potential market for the original and the market for derivative works.” McGucken, 42 F.4th at 1163. Even when there is “little direct evidence of actual market harm” caused by the secondary use, “to negate fair use,” the plaintiff “need only show that if the challenged use should become widespread, it would adversely affect the potential market for the copyrighted work.” Id. (original emphasis).

60. The fourth fair use factor also “must take into account the public benefits the copying will likely produce.” Google LLC v. Oracle America, Inc., 593 U.S. 1, 35 (2021). In other words, does the use “serve copyright’s goal of enriching public knowledge.” Warhol, 598 U.S. at 531 (quoting Authors Guild v. Google, Inc., 804 F.3d 202, 214 (2d Cir. 2015) (Level, J.)). When the original work is associated with “dangerous misinformation,” it does not serve the public benefit and results in “actual and reputational harm” to the market for the original work – even when the “primary markets ... do not meaningfully overlap.” National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, Inc. v. Multimedia System Design, Inc., 551 F.Supp.3d 408 (S.D.N.Y. 2021).

61. In Hosseinzadeh, the Court found the fourth fair use factor “weighs in favor of a determination of fair use.” 276 F.Supp.3d at 47. The Klein video did not “usurp[] demand for the copyrighted work, thereby resulting in a loss for the infringer or unjust enrichment for the infringer.” Id. at 46. To the contrary, “the Klein video [did] not serve as a market substitute for the Hoss video” because the Klein video “transform[ed] the Hoss video from a skit into fodder for caustic, moment-by-moment commentary and mockery.” Id. at 47. Consequently, “the Klein video does not offer a substitute for the original.” Id.

Kaceytron’s “Group Viewing Session” Failed to Make a Fair Use of *The Nuke

62. It is readily apparent that the primary purpose of Kaceytron’s use of The Nuke was to offer a “group viewing session” of The Nuke as a substitute for the original.<sup>29</sup> This is evidenced by:

a. Kaceytron begins her “group viewing session” thirteen minutes after The Nuke was released to the public. Ex. H at 0:00:30. The timing of Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” of The Nuke demonstrates that she did not prescreen it to formulate her opinions prior to broadcast. Rather, Kaceytron timed her “group viewing session” to occur shortly after The Nuke was released to capitalize on the great public interest in The Nuke and siphon as many viewers as possible away from the original to herself. In other words, her priority was to personally benefit from providing a substitute for the original and any commentary and criticism was a mere afterthought.

b. Immediately prior to watching The Nuke, Kaceytron states: “I know a lot of people have been wanting to watch this without necessarily supporting Ethan Klein. So, we’re going to watch it.” Ex. H at 0:01:02-1:12. This demonstrates that Kaceytron knew her audience wanted a substitute for The Nuke and she was more than happy to provide one.

c. Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” suffers from a poverty of any commentary in general – let alone on the style or substance of The Nuke itself. For example, over the course of ten minutes, Kaceytron makes five short comments (some completely unrelated to The Nuke): (1) “I don’t know anything about this stuff”; (2) “Here we go, right”; (3) “So now he cares about genocide?”; (4) “I mean, it’s true. America is bad”; and (5) “What’s wrong with him saying that. It’s true.” Ex. H at 0:07:46-18:00. By showing the entirety of The Nuke without providing extensive commentary that eclipsed the amount shown demonstrates that commentary was a mere afterthought for Kaceytron.

d. Kaceytron admits that she has “no idea about, like, world politics, geopolitical politics or anything like that” or capable of commenting on the vast majority of the points raised in The Nuke. Ex. H at 0:23:13-24:13. In other words, Kaceytron admits she is not competent to provide meaningful commentary on the substance of The Nuke.

e. Relatedly, Kaceytron repeatedly states she needs to watch The Nuke again with “Mike’s analysis.” Ex. H at 22:55, 25:59, 29:55. The “Mike” Kaceytron is referring to is Michael W. Beyer p/k/a Central Committee/Mike from PA (“Beyer”). Beyer is a failed nepo baby who is a prolific purveyor of misinformation to the public for over a decade. As explained below, Kaceytron’s reliance on Beyer as a source of reliable information is misplaced and

i. Beyer is the son of former Pennsylvania State Representative, Karen Beyer, who was a Republican. Losing her seat in 2010, Beyer changed his party affiliation from Republican to Democrat to run against State Representative Justin Simmons – that man who defeated his mother in the republican primary of 2010.<sup>30</sup>

ii. Beyer had the great privilege of going to and completing law school at the University of Pittsburgh.<sup>31</sup> Despite having an opportunity many would envy, Beyer squandered his education. After law school, he became “a real estate consultant to his family” and had not “relied on or applied his legal training to impart legal advice in such endeavor.” In re Beyer, 115 A.3d 835, 837 fn. 2 (Penn. 2014). He did not “actively prepar[e] for the bar examination,” had “not yet scheduled himself to take the bar, nor did he claim to be working with the law for a lawyer or a judge as a ‘nonlawyer assistant.’” Id.

iii. In 2014, Beyer ran against Representative Simmons for his mother’s prior seat. In his petition, Beyer stated his occupation was a “lawyer.” In re Beyer, 115 A.3d at 836-837. The Pennsylvania Supreme Court took the drastic remedy of invalidating Beyer’s petition because “his description of occupation [was] both materially defective and issued with knowledge it could mislead electors as to his credential for the office of lawmaker.” Id. at 836. While Beyer eventually ran as a write-in candidate, he lost the election by 22.2%.

iv. Afterwards, Beyer blamed his local Democratic party for the misrepresentation in his petition – claiming they were responsible for completing it.<sup>32</sup> Beyer’s “alibi” raises more questions than answers, particularly given that he was a law school graduate, such as: (1) Did Beyer sign the petition without reviewing it first?; (2) Did Beyer sign the petition first and the Democratic party subsequently completed it?; and (3) Is Beyer engaging in another misrepresentation?

v. After failing at a political career that was handed to him on a silver platter, Beyer became a streamer. Over time, his politics grew more radical and he began to traffic in baseless conspiracy theories, falsehoods and online harassment.<sup>33</sup>

f. Indeed, Kaceytron is often too obliterated to comment on The Nuke and, instead, stares blankly at her computer screen. In a span of two hours and seven minutes, Kaceytron smokes marijuana (frequently in a highly concentrated form through a vaporizer) for nearly nineteen minutes – which is three minutes more that Kaceytron speaks during her “group viewing session.” See Ex. H at 11:07, 27:02, 37:47, 48:17, 51:21, 52:11, 52:12, 53:44, 1:05:59, 1:07:52, 1:11:52, 1:48:48, 1:51:55, 2:04:18. At one point, Kaceytron is so wasted that she states: “What is happening. I’m trying to follow, but I lost the plot.” Id. at 36:03.

g. More notable than her dearth of commentary and copious consumption of cannabis is the sound of – what appears to be – Kaceytron repeatedly emitting flatulence on stream. See e.g., Ex. H at 2:25, 4:53, 22:37, 53:38, 1:55:58.

h. The Nuke takes the vast majority of the screen for Kaceytron’s reaction. Kaceytron’s objective was to provide a large and unobstructed view of The Nuke to her audience.

In contrast, Kaceytron sequesters herself to a small portion of the screen that deemphasizes her presence – particularly relative to The Nuke. See generally, Ex. H.

63. Kaceytron’s use of The Nuke was highly commercial. Throughout her “group viewing session” of The Nuke, Kaceytron solicits donations and her donation goal at the top of the screen. See generally, Ex. H. On her Twitch page where Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” was located, Kaceytron solicited paid subscriptions, donations and bits (a different form of monetary compensation on Twitch). Each time Kaceytron receives a donation or paid subscriptions, an announcement would play over The Nuke. Indeed, during her “group viewing session” of The Nuke, Kaceytron received numerous paid subscriptions and donations. Further, Kaceytron received advertising revenue from her “group viewing session” of The Nuke.

64. As to the second fair use factor, the fact The Nuke was released thirteen minutes prior to Kaceytron’s “group viewing session” does not weigh in her favor. Further, while containing numerous documentary and factual elements, The Nuke contains numerous creative elements, which weigh against fair use.

65. As to the third fair use factor, this factor weighs heavily against fair use. It is readily apparent that Kaceytron’s use was excessive for any potential criticism of The Nuke – particularly in light of the minimal level of commentary and highly commercial nature of Kaceytron’s “group viewing session.” This is particularly true when Kaceytron repeatedly provides brief statements (many of which have little to no critical bearing on The Nuke) after showing long unadulterated segments of The Nuke.

66. The fourth (and most important) fair use factor weighs the most heavily against fair use. It is readily apparent that Kaceytron intended (and succeeded) to provide a market substitute for The Nuke for the reasons set forth below:

- a. Kaceytron's statement before her "group viewing session" that "I know a lot of people have been wanting to watch this without necessarily supporting Ethan Klein. So, we're going to watch it." Ex. H at 0:01:02-1:12.
- b. Showing The Nuke in its entirety with minimal commentary.
- c. Starting her "group viewing session" thirteen minutes after The Nuke was released to the public when the interest in The Nuke was at its apex.
- d. The First Inducement Post and the Second Inducement Post by the H3Snark Mods.
- e. Due to Kaceytron's siphoning the audience for The Nuke to her "group viewing session," TEI lost views and advertising revenue it would ordinarily receive from the individuals who watched Kaceytron's "group viewing session" instead of The Nuke.
- f. Kaceytron's conduct did become widespread. Several other members of Hasan's Waiting Room conducted a "group viewing session" of The Nuke immediately after its release – which resulted in further lost views and lost advertising revenue to TEI.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(For Direct Copyright Infringement – Against Kaceytron)

- 67. TEI incorporates by reference the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.
- 68. TEI is the sole owner of the copyrights in The Nuke and registered it with the USCO.
- 69. Kaceytron accessed The Nuke from TEI's YouTube channel, h3h3Productions.
- 70. TEI did not grant any license, authorization or consent for Kaceytron to exploit The Nuke in any manner. Rather, Kaceytron's "group viewing session" of The Nuke constituted an unauthorized reproduction, public performance and derivative work of The Nuke in violation of TEI's rights as set forth in 17 U.S.C. Section 106.

71. Due to Kaceytron's acts of copyright infringement, TEI has suffered damages in an amount to be established at trial.

72. Due to Kaceytron's acts of copyright infringement, Kaceytron obtained profits they would not have realized but for her infringement of TEI's copyrights in The Nuke.

73. Kaceytron's acts of copyright infringement were done with actual or constructive knowledge of TEI's rights, such that said acts of copyright infringement were willful, intentional, malicious and/or taken with reckless disregard for TEI's rights.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Contributory Copyright Infringement – Against The H3 Snark Mods)

74. TEI incorporates by reference the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

75. The H3Snark Mods (and each one of them) knew Kaceytron's "group viewing session" would infringe TEI's copyrights in The Nuke.

76. The H3Snark Mods (and each one of them) are responsible for the First Inducement Post and Second Inducement Post.

77. The First Inducement Post and Second Inducement Post induced, caused and/or materially contributed to Kaceytron's infringement of The Nuke.

78. Due to the H3Snark Mods' contributory infringement, TEI has suffered damages in an amount to be established at trial.

79. The H3Snark Mods' acts of contributory infringement were made with actual or constructive knowledge of TEI's rights, such that said acts of contributory infringement were willful, intentional, malicious and/or taken with reckless disregard for TEI's rights.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, TEI prays for judgment against Kaceytron and the H3Snark Mods (collectively, "Defendants") as follows:

- a. That TEI be awarded Defendants' (and each of their) profits, plus TEI's losses, attributable to Defendants' infringements of The Nuke, the exact sum to be proven at the time of trial; or, if elected, statutory damages in the amount of $150,000 as available under 17 U.S.C. Section 504;
- b. TEI be awarded its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs under 17 U.S.C. Section 505;
- c. TEI be awarded pre-judgment interest as allowed by law; and
- d. TEI be awarded such further relief as the Court deems proper.

JURY TRIAL DEMAND

TEI demands a jury trial on all issues so triable pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 38 and the 7th Amendment to the United State Constitution.
